Forces shell airport, down Marine planes

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Syrian forces shot down two U.S. warplanes Sunday during the first American air strike in Lebanon. One flier was rescued, at least one was captured and Syrian soldiers said a third died of injuries.

Meanwhile, Druze gunners blasted the U.S. Marines base at the Beirut airport with rockets and artillery shells Sunday night, killing eight Marines and wounding two, a Marine spokesman said.

Maj. Dennis Brooks said the Marines came under intense fire about 18 hours after Syrian anti-aircraft batteries shot down two U.S. Navy jets that were among 28 warplanes that launched the first American air strike in Lebanon.

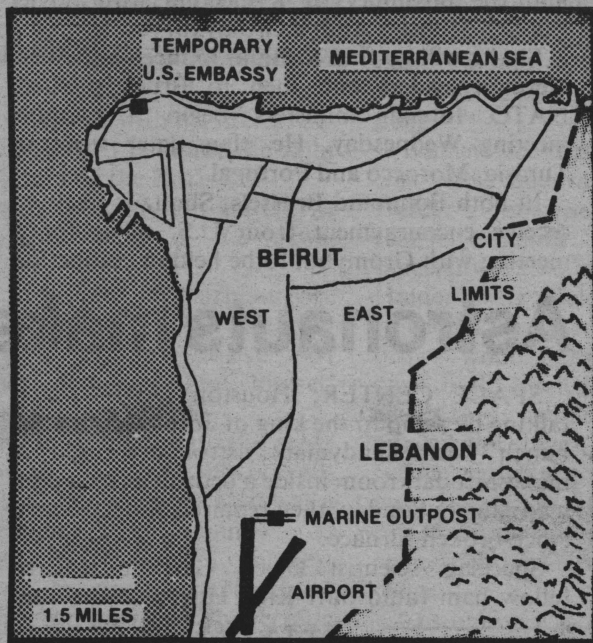

Brooks said the Druze militiamen began spraying the southern end of the Marine encampment with small arms and 23mm anti-aircraft fire at about 7 p.m. (12 noon EST) and soon "the entire airport perimeter" was being shelled.

The Pentagon said a two-man A-6 and a single pilot A-7 fighter-bomber were downed when 28 U.S. planes attacked Syrian positions in Lebanon's central mountains at about 8 a.m., 1 a.m. EST, in response to earlier attacks on U.S. reconnaissance planes.

The White House said President Reagan authorized the raid. Reagan vowed to order more strikes if Syrian anti-aircraft batteries continue to fire at American surveillance planes.

"We are going to defend our forces there," Reagan told reporters at the White House. "...If our forces are attacked, we will respond."

Secretary of Defense Caspar Weinberger said the Syrians were believed to be holding two of the fliers. "We are attempting to negotiate their hostages," Reagan said.

But a Lebanese photographer on assignment for The Associated Press said he saw a captured American at one crash site, as well as another severely injured crewman taken away by Syrian soldiers. The Syrians later told reporters one American died of his injuries.

A Syrian communique mentioned only one pilot held.

The other U.S. planes returned safely to the aircraft carriers USS Independence and the USS Kennedy off the Lebanese coast, the Defense Department said.

A Lebanese army officer who witnessed the raid from a mountain village said the U.S. jets were lined up abreast as they swept in from the Mediterranean for the attack.

He said he thought the planes must have been visible to Syrian lookouts and radar stations for several minutes before they struck.

As the planes crossed over Syrian lines, missiles and anti-aircraft fire rose "from all sides," he said.

Reagan's decision favored—poll

by Stacey Flannigan and Vicki Vass

A majority of Charleston residents polled favored President Reagan's decision to send and retain American Marines, at least temporarily, in Lebanon.

The poll was conducted by Eastern students in Sociology 3681, "Public Opinion and Propaganda," under the supervision of sociology instructor Johnetta Jones.

Students polled 392 residents randomly selected from the Charleston telephone book during the week of Nov. 17-22, Jones said.

The survey has a sampling error of plus or minus 6 percent, Jones said. This indicates that the results of the survey are off 6 percent above or below the reported figures.

She added that a sampling error is the difference between a survey of a random sample, such as the class' survey, and surveying the entire Charleston area. The higher the number of people surveyed the smaller the error, Jones noted.

Jones said 65.1 percent of the people surveyed were aware that the Marines were originally stationed in Lebanon in 1982 for "peacekeeping purposes."

However, they were less certain now whether the Marines "had a clearly-defined purpose in Beirut." Almost 40 percent said they did have a clearly-defined purpose, while 33.9 percent said they believed they didn't. Twenty-four percent were undecided, she said.

Prior to the Beirut bombing, Jones said, Reagan's decision to send troops to Lebanon was supported by a majority of residents polled with almost 43.6 percent approving, 28.3 percent disapproving and 26.3 percent undecided.

A segment of the undecided group shifted to approval for keeping the forces in Lebanon after the bombing, Jones said. Fifty-two percent agreed with Reagan's actions in keeping troops in Beirut despite the bombing incident while 29.6 percent disapproved. Almost 17 percent were undecided.

Jones said 52.6 percent of those polled favored maintaining the current troop levels in Lebanon, but with increased security and protection.

However, 18 percent said they believed the troops should receive major reinforcements and take a more active role in enforcing peace among the warring elements.

Yet, those polled were split over how long American troops should remain there, she added. Most (41 percent) believed the troops should stay as long as Reagan thinks it is necessary.

Overall, Jones said, the survey seems to indicate Reagan has a "substantial core of support" for the current level of American activities in Lebanon.

However, Jones noted, the large number of undecideds reflect an uneasiness with the situation which could tip the balance into opposition if there was another incident similar to the Beirut bombing.

Jones also cited the gender gap as a factor in the survey. "Women tend to be more frequently in the negative or undecided category," she said.

Also, because Charleston is a college community, Jones said there is a higher than normal category of younger and college-educated adults who participated in the survey.

Seventy-three percent of those polled had some college background. In addition, 63.5 percent were in the 18-39 age bracket.

Of those polled, 29 percent said they were Republican, 22.2 percent Democrat, 27.3 percent independent with 19.4 percent undecided or other.

Tuition due during early enrollment

by Linda Wagner

Eastern students who preregistered for spring semester will need to complete early enrollment beginning Monday in the Union Ballroom.

Director of Registration Mike Taylor said, to complete early enrollment, students must bring their student ID cards and tuition and fee payments to the Union Ballroom according to the designated schedule.

Students may report to register anytime after their designated times but not before. The deadline for early enrollment is 3 p.m. Thursday, he said.

Failure to complete early enrollment will result in the cancellation of scheduled spring classes, he added.

Total tuition and fees for full-time students who are Illinois residents will be $604 for lower-division undergraduates, $628 for upper-division undergraduates and $670 for graduate students.

In addition, a new registration process will offer a Special Alternate Card to preregistered students who do not receive at least 12 hours on their temporary schedules, Taylor said.

Under this new system, a station will be added to the fee payment line. Students will leave their schedules at this station and receive alternate request cards.

The request cards must be approved by the students' advisers and returned to the registration office by Friday. Freshmen and sophomores' cards must have departmental stamps and advisers' signatures. Juniors and seniors are only required to have departmental stamps.

The registration schedule is determined according to the last digit of the student's social security number.

Agreement reached in bus strike

WASHINGTON—Union leaders are expected to push hard for ratification of a contract agreement aimed at ending a bitter, month-long strike against Greyhound Lines, although one union official acknowledged "we bit the bullet" on wage concessions.

After one day of make or break bargaining, the Amalgamated Transit Union and Greyhound reached a tentative settlement on a new contract, with a ratification vote planned before Dec. 20, according to federal mediators.

Union sources acknowledged the agreement contained major concessions, including a 7.8 percent wage cut—the same amount rejected earlier by a union vote.

"We felt that we went as far as we could go," one member of the union's bargaining council said, insisting on anonymity. He added: "We bit the bullet hard on the economic issues" but kept major work rules.

Shultz to talk with NATO allies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State George P. Shultz leaves Tuesday for Europe for talks with NATO allies that will focus on East-West relations, including the new missile rivalry and the possibility of a meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Shultz will go first to Bonn to meet with West German leaders and then to Brussels where NATO foreign ministers begin a two-day meeting Wednesday. He plans later stops in Tunisia, Morocco and Portugal.

In both Bonn and Brussels, Shultz is likely to receive encouragement from U.S. allies for a meeting with Gromyko, to be held in conjunction with the opening of a European Disarmament Conference in Stockholm in January.

A senior State Department official said Saturday that NATO allies will want Shultz to provide the latest U.S. assessment of the Soviet reaction to the deployment of U.S. medium-range nuclear missiles in Europe. The Soviets broke off Geneva talks on medium-range weapons when the missile deployment started.

The health of Soviet Leader Yuri Andropov—who has not been seen in public since August—also is certain to be discussed. Shultz said last week that Andropov has been ill, but that he didn't know how ill.

Astronauts make repairs to lab

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP)— After talking by radio to the king of Jordan, a "happy bunch" of handyman astronauts used a makeshift darkroom inside a bedroll to fix a jammed camera Sunday, then repaired and fired up a twice-broken furnace.

Spacelab scientist Owen Garriott reached fellow ham radio buff King Hussein, who told him, "We're very, very proud of you, and we share this pride with all the people of America, all the people of the world."

Bob Parker and Ulf Merbold of the Red Team and Garriott and Byron Lichtenberg of the Blue Team got out tools to repair several broken experiments.

'Good' illustrates Nazi's lifestyle

Eastern's production of C.P. Taylor's "Good" is just that. The play follows John Halder, a German novelist and university professor, as he contemplates his life and the Nazi party.

The audience experiences different facets of Halder's life, which culminate when he becomes a Nazi.

Halder, played by senior Jeff Bennett, is suffering from an identity crisis. He is getting older and is unhappy with his wife and home.

Becoming a Nazi is an escape for Halder. However, Halder's moral beliefs keep him from making a quick decision.

"I'm not 100 percent sure about Hitler," Halder said at the beginning of the play. However, he believes he can change any wrongdoings. Halder believes he can "push the Nazis toward humanity."

As the story progresses, Halder talks himself into joining the Nazis. One of his first duties is to organize a book burning. The act goes against Halder's intellectual principles but he rationalizes why the ceremony is justified.

Halder reasons a "defect of university life is learning from books and not reality" and goes through with the book burning.

While Halder is serving the Nazi regime he tells himself he is "fundamentally happy" with his life. In actuality, he doubts if he made the right decision by joining the Nazis.

Review: Carl Pugliese

"I'm not diluting myself, am I?" he ponders. "Maybe it is the Jews' fault?"

Halder suspected the Nazi purpose was not well-intentioned. He was a victim of a false sense of righteousness—both within himself and his country.

The script illustrated that false sense of consciousness that probably prevailed during the Hitler regime. That was a time when people were taken in.

However, the script's biggest downfall was act one's abrupt jumps from reality to dreams. The erratic jumping back and forth was confusing and made it difficult for the audience to follow the storyline.

However, the director and ensemble of actors handled the scene transitions as smoothly as possible.

With a few exceptions, the actors interpreted their parts well and with credibility. Characters had a fairly good grasp of mime techniques.

Senior Nancy Slusser portrayed

Anne, Halder's mistress, convincingly. Slusser showed how Anne blinded herself from reality.

Anne completely shut herself off from the horrors happening around her. "No matter what happens around us..." Anne said, "I know we're good people."

Bennett handled his role well and was very believable. He portrayed Halder's anxieties with disturbing realism. Senior Karen Vogt was especially pathetic and believable as Halder's wife, Helen.

The set was interestingly simple. The brown wood folding chairs upon the dark multi-leveled platforms allowed actors to sit behind the-players performing center stage.

The music was by far one of the most appealing aspects of "Good." The musicians ear-pleasing accompaniment added a German flavor to every scene.

Costuming was also a strong aspect of "Good." Characters in Nazi uniforms looked authentic. The lighting complemented the sometimes sullen and other times cheerful scenes.

"Good," directed by E.G. Gabbard, is Eastern's seventh entry in the American College Theater Festival. With the exception of the sometimes confusing script, this play's chances of receiving top honors is real good.

Registration program aids chances for full schedule

Starting Monday during registration for Spring '84, preregistered students will have a better chance to gain a full class load—thanks to the recently updated registration process.

With this new system, most students hopefully will be kept out of add-drop lines in January because they will be given one last shot to obtain a full schedule now.

Students who do not receive 12 hours on their temporary schedules will receive a "Special Alternate Course Request Card."

Student Body President John Cole initiated the idea to revise the registration system to give students who paid their spring semester tuition by the December deadline another chance to obtain a full class load.

With the aid of Cole's suggestions for improving the registration process, the registration office devised and implemented the new system.

The new system will add a station to the fee payment line during early enrollment Monday through Thursday. Students who have not received a full class load can leave their schedules at this station and receive alternate request cards.

Students must fill out the cards and have them stamped by the appropriate department and returned to the registration office by Friday. Freshmen and sophomores must have a departmental stamp and their adviser's signature on the card.

The cards will then be processed over Christmas break by the registration office in an attempt to give students their original choices and alternates.

By instituting this new process, students have an extra shot to obtain a full class load before the add-drop sessions in January and then hopefully, fewer students will have to frequent the add-drop lines.

The registration office has shown their concern for the students by updating and improving the registration system. Now, during the registration process, the program should be monitored for future improvements.

Your turn

Electrifying alarms

Editor:

A couple of weeks ago the members of my dorm were privileged to participate in three fire drills within a period of five days.

I think this is extremely unnecessary—it is also very frustrating because all these drills occurred around 1 or 2 a.m.

I overheard another girl from the dorm say that she had called the fire department and they told her that the reason our dorm has so many drills is that the wiring in our building is faulty.

If that is the case, then what we need is not more fire drills but better wiring. What if we had a real fire? Maybe then the alarm wouldn't go off at all—due to 'faulty wiring.'

This is not a very safe situation to be living in.

Linda Lindeman

Don't fear the 'big city'

Editor:

Hey, Brian, I believe it's time you face up to the real world. It sounds as if mommy is still telling you scary stories as she did when you were a little boy, to keep you isolated from the bad world around you.

No, there is no "boogie man" Brian, just like Chicago is not where Pandora's box was opened.

If Chicago was a life-threatening metropolitan to the extreme that you obviously believe to be so, than how do you explain the several million people that tend to retain living in the city?

Of course, because you do not live in the city, you are exposed to only the bad stories. I will bet you live in Naperville or the like, because your opinions are typical.

I live in the city and have the joy at laughing at your childish innuendos. I would not advise anyone to walk the streets with their life's savings hanging out of their pockets and I would not advise that anywhere.

Chicago is a large city, so do not go down there thinking maybe you will have a chance to exchange a few words with you pal Melvin.

If your intentions are to Christmas shop, then do just that. Keep your small-town prejudices at home and enjoy shopping in the city.

Michael Weber

Chicago isn't Lebanon

Editor:

Face up to the real world, Brian Ormiston, like "real men" do. Chicago is a big city and anyone going there expecting anything else would be fooling themselves.

First you try to describe how hard it is to drive in the city and then you make fun of the only people who have actually mastered it—taxi and bus drivers. Then you stereotype Southern Illinois residents as slow moving, loafing truck drivers with CB and shotgun at hand.

I think the only naive college kid that would give money to con artists is you.

You make shopping in the city like taking your life in your hands. I wouldn't doubt that you don't leave your shotgun in the car but carry it on your back whenever visiting the big city. Let's save the writing for the "real men" Brian.

Keith Gaskill

Schedule that policy

Editor:

We, the Little Sisters of Sigma Tau Gamma, a recognized student organization, would like to bring to your attention the newly issued policies of the Union Scheduling Office, pertaining to the assignment of tables in the Union and other various buildings on campus.

Recently, we have tried on a number of occasions to acquire a table to sell fund-raising items. We have been turned down on all occasions due to new policies.

To our knowledge, these new policies have not been made known to the recognized organizations of Eastern and the students on its campus.

We would appreciate having these policies made known by publishing them in The Daily Eastern News and/or sending them out to all recognized institutions.

Here's to good friends

Editor:

A great deal of attention is focused on the alienation between Eastern students and Charleston residents.

There are several items which seem to have a detrimental effect on student/resident relationships.

First, there is increased hostility between students and residents due to loud parties and drunk, belligerent students. Disturbing one's neighbors is generally not conducive to amicable relations.

Second, increases in the theft and vandalism rates coincide with the January and August student-return times, noted in the Siren Report of the Charleston Times Courier. Unfortunately, all students are usually lumped together by the public and the regrettable effect is that the image of the majority is tarnished by the actions of the minority.

The answer to most of the problems between residents and students is to get involved either singly or in groups. There are many activities that could use the combined efforts of residents and students.

One, the semi-annual blood drive, is a fine example of goodwill. There are groups such as Big Brothers/Big Sisters which could really use your help.

Chore Day for Senior Citizens is another activity to consider.

Whatever activity you choose to participate in, it's hard to dislike someone when you get to know them on a positive basis.

Letter policy

The name and phone of at least one author must be submitted with each letter to the editor.

Letters submitted without a name (or with a pseudonym) or without a phone number or other means of verifying authorships will not be published.

Names will be withheld on request.

Letters should be typewritten and should not exceed 250 words. Letters which exceed the 250-word limit will be edited to fit with the writer's permission.

CAA reviews exam policy

by Craig Gaumer

A proposal calling for an expansion of Eastern's current final exam exemption policy was withdrawn from consideration by the Council on Academic Affairs Thursday.

The proposal, authored by Harold Malehorn, elementary and junior high education instructor, called for the CAA to establish a set of criteria allowing certain undergraduate courses to be declared exempt from required final exams.

Malehorn withdrew his proposal after being informed by faculty members of Eastern's current procedure for final exam course exemptions.

He pointed out that if he withdrew his proposal, the CAA should circulate the current exam exemption policy to the entire faculty.

CAA Chairman Pat Wright said a memo explaining the proper channel for a faculty member to pursue a final exam exemption will be delivered to faculty.

Malehorn explained to CAA members his reasoning behind expanding final exam exemption criteria.

"I authored this proposal to accomplish three basic things," Malehorn said. "First, I wanted to expand the criteria currently used for final exemptions.

"Secondly, I would like to make available to the faculty, whatever criteria has been established on this matter," he continued, "and third, somewhat selfishly, I would like to exempt my courses from final examinations."

Fraternity kidnaps Santa

Jamie Pistorio

Call the police, Santa Claus has been kidnapped!

Charleston children, don't worry. Members of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity kidnapped Santa Claus in an effort to raise money from local businesses to buy Christmas food baskets and toys for area children.

Doug Lyons, a member of the fraternity, said the kidnapping is a annual community project sponsored by the fraternity.

The fraternities goal is to top $600, which was contributed in 1979.

Lyons, also organizer of the fund-raiser, said local businesses, students and Charleston residents can donate money to the fraternity as ransom for Santa Claus.

Fraternity members threatened to cancel Christmas if businesses, residents or students do not cooperate.

The money donated for ransom, Lyons said, will go to the Charleston Civic Association for the baskets and toys.

Lyons said the fraternity used plastic guns and cigars as weapons to kidnap Santa Claus. The fraternity kidnapped Santa from the Coles County Courthouse where he was taking Christmas toy orders from children.

Fraternity members will contact area businesses in the next few days to secure ransom money.

Students interested in making contributions may do so in the Panther Lair walkway beginning Tuesday and ending Friday.

Also, contributions can be made by calling 345-9084.

Downs Indiana State

Salukis nearing NCAA I-AA title

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—Ron Miller and Corky Field combined for 23 points Saturday to lift Southern Illinois University past Indiana State University 23-7 in the quarterfinals of the NCAA I-AA football playoffs.

Miller kicked three field goals and Field scored twice from the one-yard line to give the top-ranked Salukis their first I-AA playoff victory ever.

The Salukis (11-1) now face Nevada-Reno next Saturday in Carbondale with the winner going to the national championship game in Charleston, S.C., Dec. 17.

In addition, Saturday's win was Southern Illinois' second over Indiana State this season. The Salukis had won 34-21 in Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 22.

The Salukis defense held Indiana State to three completions, 55 yards total offense and four first downs Saturday. The winners rushed for 157 yards and passed for 174 more. However, Indiana State took the game's first lead on a 56-yard first quarter drive capped off by a four-yard touchdown pass from Jeff Miller to Don Hitz.

Indiana State had advanced to Saturday's quarterfinals via a 16-13 double-overtime win over Eastern Illinois University Nov. 26. Southern Illinois had received one of four first-round byes.

In other NCAA I-AA playoff action: Western Carolina upset Holy Cross 28-21 at Worcester, Mass.; Furman defeated Boston University 35-16 at Greenville, S.C.; and Nevada-Reno nipped North Texas State 20-17 at Reno.

Jeff Gilbert passed for three touchdowns, including the winner with less than six minutes remaining, to key Western Carolina's victory over Holy Cross.

The other Western Carolina touchdown came when defensive end Clyde Simmons rumbled 60 yards with a blocked kick.

In the semifinals, Western Carolina will play Furman, which beat Boston University on the passing of David Charpia and the running of Stanford Jennings.

Charpia completed 14 of 22 passes for 202 yards and three touchdowns. Jennings ran 50 yards for a touchdown and finished with 105 yards in 14 carries.

Greg Carter's touchdown pass with 4:45 left in regulation play gave North Texas State a 17-17 tie. Then Nevada-Reno won on a Tony Zendejas' 32-yard field goal 56 seconds into the first half.

Lomax, Cardinals slip past Giants 10-6

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP)—Neil Lomax fired a 20-yard touchdown pass to Roy Green to lead St. Louis Cardinals to a 10-6 victory over the New York Giants as a National Football League record was set on a rainy Sunday.

Rookie Lionel Washington led the Cardinals defense by recovering a fumble and intercepted two passes.

Lomax, who hit 11 of 25 passes for 122 yards with one interception hooked up with Green on the third play of the second quarter to lift the Cardinals to a 7-6 halftime lead.

Bears outlasted

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Jan

Stenerud kicked a 19-yard field goal with three seconds left to lift Green Bay to a 31-28 victory over the Chicago Bears.

The victory kept the Packers in contention for the NFC Central title with a 7-7 record, while Chicago fell to 6-8. Detroit and Minnesota, the division leaders with 7-6 marks play Monday.

season by Southern Mississippi.

Samuels said, "Mentally we match up with them (Southern Mississippi), but we're capable of playing a much better effort. We never had five guys going hard at the same time."

The Panthers, who turned the ball over 18 times, fell behind 43-28 at halftime and were never able to recover as Southern Mississippi posted its fourth win in as many outings.

"We were really lethargic in the first half offensively," Samuels said.

"We had trouble with them because we didn't do the fundamental things. We let them run and jump on us and you can't let a team like that do that on you," Samuels added.

Eastern's Tim Wyss and Collins each scored 18 points Friday night to lead the Panthers.

Panthers edge Western; take third in Illini Classic

by Kirby Flowers

Daily Eastern News correspondent

CHAMPAIGN—Eastern's 73-70 win over intrastate and conference rival Western Illinois University Saturday gave the Panther basketball team a third-place finish in the Illini Classic.

The Panthers, 2-1, lost their opener of the four-team tournament Friday 79-65 to Southern Mississippi University, but rebounded to down the Leathernecks in Saturday's consolation game.

The victory marked the second time Eastern has finished third in the Illini Classic—the first time was in 1979 when the Panthers dumped Kentucky State University 65-59.

In Saturday's championship game, the University of Illinois crushed Southern Mississippi 78-47 to post its fifth-straight Illini Classic title.

Eastern head coach Rick Samuels said the Eastern-Western rivalry was a good way to get the season going well for his squad.

"Eastern-Western games are always exciting, always intense, and it's a great rivalry," Samuels said. "I think we did our best."

"We thought this rivalry was very good for us," Samuels added. "This game sets the pace for our season. We expect good things to happen this year."

Despite going "unnoticed" for most of the game, Eastern's Jon Collins pumped in 26 points Saturday to lead the Panthers scoring attack.

"Collins is a surprising player, he gets a lot done unnoticed," Samuels said. "Jon's going to be important to us."

Eastern's Collins was rewarded for his efforts by being named to the tournament's all-star team.

Joining Collins on the all-star team were J.D. Dykstra of Western and George Montgomery, Doug Altenberger and Efre Winters of U of I.

In Saturday's consolation contest, the Panthers trailed Western for most of the first half.

However, with 3:46 left in the half Eastern scored seven unanswered points to take a 32-31 lead and eventually a 34-33 advantage at intermission.

In the second half, Eastern maintained the upper hand and went on to post a 73-70 decision over Association of Mid-Continent Universities foe Western.

Despite the narrow margin of victory, Samuels said he was impressed with the Panthers second-half play Saturday.

"I was very proud of us in the second half," Samuels said. "We thought we could post up to Collins, and it worked very well. The whole team played exceptionally well."

Western Illinois head coach Jack Margenthaler said, "The game was so close, it was just a matter of who got that six or seven point lead at the right time."

"Our lead was too early in the game and when they got the lead it was late in the game and that allowed them to dictate the ball game after that," Margenthaler added.

In addition, Margenthaler said his squad did not play up to their ability, but admitted that Eastern did a good job against the Leathernecks.

"We didn't execute as an offense as we should have," Margenthaler said. "The high-low point worked good at times but not late in the game."

"You have to credit Eastern, they shut us down," he added.

Margenthaler also noted that the Leathernecks did not have the intensity they had Friday when they battled the Illini.

"We didn't have quite the emotion we had last night," Margenthaler said. "We had enough effort to win, but it didn't seem like we had that extra effort like last night."

Despite losing to U of I 65-49, the Leathernecks gave the Illini a run for their money Friday pulling to within 36-32 at 16:03 of the second half.

"We were four down and then we had three-straight turnovers and after each one they (Illinois) capitalized," Margenthaler said. "That was definitely the turning point of the ball game."

Following Western's defeat Friday night, the Panthers were dealt their first loss of the (See PANTHERS, page 11)

Women cagers place fourth in Heath Candy Classic

by Kathy Leahy

A frustrated Eastern's women's basketball team finished fourth Saturday in the Heath Candy Classic via a pair of one-point losses to Xavier University and Eastern Michigan University at Lantz Gym.

"It was frustrating for us to lose both of those by one point," Eastern head coach Bobbie Hilke said. "We are a good shooting team. We were taking the good shots, but the lid was on."

The host Panthers failed to defend their 1982 title in losing to Xavier 49-48 Friday night and to Eastern Michigan 64-63 in Saturday's consolation game.

Xavier went on to claim its first Heath Candy Classic crown Saturday by trouncing Murray State University 72-54.

"We were breaking away from the basket too soon because we thought those shots were going down," Hilke added. "So we're going to have to be more intense under the basket."

The Panthers, 1-4, shot 37 percent from the field in Friday's opener against Xavier and 40.7 percent Saturday against Eastern Michigan.

In addition, the Panthers registered one of their poorest free throw performances this season by sinking two of 12 attempts (18 percent) Friday night.

Saturday's consolation loss to Eastern Michigan went down to the wire. The Panthers pulled out to a 44-33 lead with 16:46 remaining in the second half and appeared in control.

However, the Hurons stormed back to take a 61-59 advantage when Bobbi Morse hit both ends of a one-and-one freethrow situation.

Moments later, Eastern tied the score at 61 when Toni Collins, after being fouled by the Hurons' Jane Shaffer, sunk a pair of charity tosses.

The Panthers rallied back to take a 63-62 advantage on Lori Conine's jumper and with 26 seconds remaining Eastern Michigan called a timeout.

However, a dispute arose when Morse apparently used four seconds to call an out-of-bounds timeout. The NCAA rules state that a player must call a timeout within three seconds, Hilke said.

In addition, Morse stepped in bounds and violated another NCAA rule, Hilke said. The referee gave Eastern Michigan the ball and the timeout.

"We would have had the ball if the referee would have called it," Hilke said. "That lost the game for us because we were winning and we could have just run out the clock."

Following the timeout, Morse hit an inside jumper to give the Hurons a 64-63 advantage with eight seconds remaining.

Eastern regained possession and Collins scored off the glass backboard at the buzzer. The referee ruled the basket came after the buzzer and the Hurons held on to win.

Chris Aldridge, who scored 18 points, paced the Panthers, while sophomore Melanie Hatfield chipped in 14 points.

Friday night, sophomore Kim Maxey and Collins led the Panther scorers. Maxey tallied 20 points, while Collins added 10 markers in losing to Xavier.
